SYNERGIC receives FDA's Breakthrough Device Designation

Synergic Medical Technologies announces the receipt of a Breakthrough Device Designation from the US Food and Drug Administration for the VT Touch vibrotactile stimulation glove for treating pathological beta oscillations in Parkinson's disease. Synergic is working with a university medical center to start a randomized clinical trial to test the effectiveness of the VT Touch glove with Parkinson's patients. We hope to report on progress with this clinical trial in the near future.
