

Happy New Year from the Synergic family to yours!

2023 was a great year for Synergic as we continue to move forward with bringing the VT Touch to people living with Parkinson's. We kicked off 2023 by announcing our breakthrough device designation from FDA (click here for more information). Mid-year we began our landmark clinical trial and expect the data to allow us to submit for FDA approval.

The clinical trial is going well, and we anticipate good news mid-year regarding the approval timeline and product release. The folks in our longitudinal trial are showing promising results including improvements in quality of life and independence. We hope to learn if these results are typical or outliers based on the pivotal clinical trial. This is core to our mission to improve the lives of people living with Parkinson's.

The current planned device is being investigated as part of our clinical trial. The device you see in these pictures will be the device commercially available if we are successful with FDA clearance.

As we work to being part of the solution for you to live more productive and independent years, we want to highlight the advantages of exercise and your local support groups. As you are all likely aware, exercise does show improved long-term progression of Parkinson's symptoms. Your local Parkinson's support group is a great way to find exercise that works for you.

If you have stories about how this has worked for you, we would love to hear them!
